God Did Not Spare His Own Son, But Gave Him Up For Us All

Holy Week is here and an invitation to finish our Lent well by meditating on the amazing readings our church presents to us. As children of the God who sent Jesus to save all who will listen and hear, we walk with Him through the jeering crowds, the scoffers, the complainers and those who ignored Him. We watch as He is mocked, scourged, crowned with thorns and crucified. We watch and pray.

In Isaiah 42 we read:

“I, the Lord, have called you to serve the cause of right; I have taken you by the hand and formed you; I have appointed you as covenant of the people and light of the nations, to open the eyes of the blind, to free captives from prison, and those who live in darkness from the dungeon.”

This reading tells us how and why the Father sent Jesus to be born of Mary. Just prior to this reading Isaiah describes the gentle work of the Holy Spirit who “does not break the crushed reed nor quench the wavering flame.” He treats us with such gentleness and love when we are sad and broken and despite our ignorance and unfaithfulness is always ready to forgive. Likewise we are asked to do the same. Because we are baptised into His life and washed in His precious blood, we have this same mission - to bring light into the darkness and freedom to those held in chains.

The work of the CATHOLIC SCHOOL OF EVANGELISATION presents each of us with many opportunities to continue this message in each of its presentations. No matter what job we are called to, whether praying, teaching, dynamics, administration, hospitality or technology we all have God given gifts to be used for His honour and glory.

As you will read elsewhere in The Witness we have been busy little bees here in Melbourne – especially the mother bee. During March we welcomed Fr. Adam Samsel from PNG and my husband Bill and I had the pleasure of giving

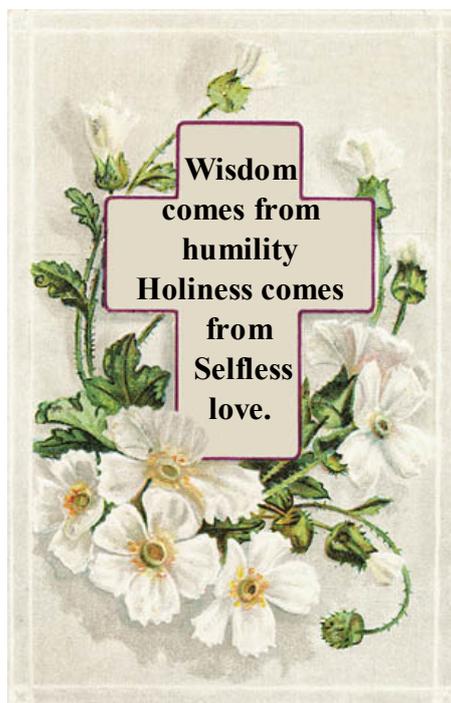

Easter Morning

Fr. Adam a tour of some of his favourite places in Melbourne. We prayed with him at St. Patrick’s Cathedral and he took many photos. His two favourite sports are tennis and motor racing so we visited the Melbourne Tennis Centre and photographed him outside Rod Laver Arena and then attempted to visit the Albert Park racing track. Unfortunately it was the day following the Grand Prix and security was still tight so Fr. Adam had to be content with looking through the holes in the plastic security screens. We then shared a hearty Australian lunch at South Melbourne beach.

We thank Fr. Adam for his great interest and involvement in the CSOE and pray God’s continued protection and blessing on his work.

EASTER BLESSINGS TO ALL.

Emeritus Pope Benedict XVI - Holy Eucharist

Emeritus Pope Benedict XVI in his recent essay comments about the celebration of the Holy Eucharist:

Our handling of the Eucharist can only arouse concern. The Second Vatican Council was rightly focused on returning this sacrament of the Presence of the Body and Blood of Christ, of the Presence of His Person, of His Passion, Death and Resurrection, to the center of Christian life and the very existence of the Church. In part, this really has come about, and we should be most grateful to the Lord for it.

And yet a rather different attitude is prevalent. What predominates is not a new reverence for the presence of Christ's death and resurrection, but a way of dealing with Him that destroys the greatness of the Mystery. The declining participation in the Sunday Eucharistic celebration shows how little we Christians of today still know about appreciating the greatness of the gift that consists in His Real Presence. The Eucharist is devalued into a mere ceremonial gesture when it is taken for granted that courtesy requires Him to be offered at family celebrations or on occasions such as weddings and funerals to all those invited for family reasons.

The way people often simply receive the Holy Sacrament in communion as a matter of course shows that many see communion as a purely ceremonial gesture. Therefore, when thinking about what action is required first and foremost, it is rather obvious that we do not need another Church of our own design. Rather, what is required first and foremost is the renewal of the Faith in the Reality of Jesus Christ given to us in the Blessed Sacrament.

What an endorsement of the CSOE course The Eucharist, which is proving to be a means of enrichment, education and a greater appreciation of the wonderful gift that we have in the Church.

If you share a desire to promote this wonderful gift and can see a possibility of hosting the one day course in your area, please contact me.

Fr. Adam Samsel's Testimony

Thank you for giving me an opportunity to participate in evangelising courses run by Catholic School of Evangelisation in Melbourne.

My name is Adam Samsel, I am a Polish Catholic priest in the Congregation of Missionaries of the Holy Family. I would like to tell you my story, a little strange story, about my vocation.

I have never been an altar boy, I was not connected with any religious movement until I was 20 years old. Then I met a beautiful young girl who participated in the meetings of the parish youth group. Of course, I started to participate in the meetings of this group and, of course, everybody knows what the reason was

I had a wonderful plan for my life, but Jesus had another, as it turned out later, even better, although at that time I did not understand it. One day Jesus invited me to offer him my life in a special way, to serve him as a priest. Of course my answer was: no! I felt unworthy, sinful, and unable to take on such a task. But the more I ran away from the voice of vocation, the more I felt in my heart the desire to give my life totally to God. I tried different ways to get away from this inner desire that did not agree with my reasoning. Once during my prayer I even complained: Lord Jesus, why are you persecuting me? Why do not you leave me alone?"

Jesus answered, very calmly: "I do not persecute you, I only propose, and you will do what you want ..."

In novitiate and in seminary, I prayed daily for recognition of my vocation: "Lord Jesus, tell me, please, let me know for sure, am I really going to be your priest?" Being in the fourth year of studies at the seminary, I shared my doubts with one of my brother-seminarians.

And I was shocked at his response: "Stupid, do not pray for recognition, if to be or not to be a priest! You must pray for you to be a good priest!"

My prayer has changed. Since that time, every day I pray that I would be a good priest.

About 25 years have passed since then. I still pray daily for perseverance in my vocation, I pray that I would be a good priest, a faithful priest, a holy priest.

Appendix:

My father, now 86 years old, has four sons. He says he used to pray that at least one of his sons would be an altar boy and he would be very proud. None of us, four brothers, served at the altar as an altar boy. But two of us become priests – missionaries. I work in Papua New Guinea and my younger brother is a Franciscan priest and he works in Republic of Central Africa ...

"God, by his own power working in us, can do much more than we ask or imagine." (Eph 3:20)

'The Lord's Hands' - Mill Park, Vic.

The 'Lord's Hands' day at Mill Park on 30th March brought together Fr Anthony Girolami, parishioners from his parish and also some CSOE past participants from outside of the parish. Many participants were able to identify and share an example of how they were living evidence of God's love and his protection. They acknowledged that "living evidence" is a more powerful evangelistic tool than second-hand "witness".

The motivational gift identification brought some surprises and for others, a confirmation of gifts already being exercised. Participants were given suggestions where their gift may best be utilised, be it in planning an Alpha course in the Mill Park parish or within the CSOE for those from outside of the parish. Subsequently the CSOE had two new members attend a meeting and promotion is already taking place for a course to be held in June.

Keep tuned for news from the Mill Park parish.

Be Passionate for the Passion of Christ

By Carmen Sylvester

With Easter only two weeks away, the topic for our Easter Preparation Seminar, 'Be Passionate for the Passion of Christ' was so well presented by our Spiritual Director Fr Josy Sebastian that we were given much spiritual food to help us prepare well for the joy of the Resurrection.

Father opened his presentation by asking us to spend one minute asking the Holy Spirit to reveal to us what Jesus has done for us. Then his opening statement: Can we like St Paul say, "I have been crucified with Christ."

Using many scripture quotes Father began to unfold the meaning of suffering for a Christian and how we can be passionate about Jesus' Passion because He has called each and every one of us to share in that Passion. We rejoice in as much as we participate in the sufferings of Christ, so that we may be overjoyed when his glory is revealed. (1 Peter 4:13) This statement is from Peter, who wanted to prevent Jesus from going to the cross. Jesus called him Satan for thinking like the world thinks. Peter who denied Jesus 3 times. Peter who hid in the upper room for fear of the Jews. What made Peter so passionate about sharing in the suffering of Christ? Of course it is the wisdom from the Holy Spirit. Peter had moved from the historical events of knowing Jesus as a preacher and teacher to knowing Jesus in a theological sense, "You are the Christ" and then to the mystical knowledge of Jesus. Father told us that Scripture has three layers.

* The Historical layer: Events that have happened or are part of history.

* The Theological Layer: Where we can come to an understanding of God.

These are both in the realm of the mind. We understand them with our minds.

* The third layer of Scripture is the Mystical Layer:

Fr. Josy blessing participants

This we understand with the heart. When we can move from the mind to the heart we can begin to make sense and even rejoice in our sufferings. We come to understand that we can take up our cross and follow Jesus. We come to understand like Mary that God's plan for our life is always the best plan. Scripture tells us that Mary always pondered things in her heart. She lived her life in the mystical plain. Mary did not understand how she could conceive. She did not understand why her Son had to die. She did not understand why she had to suffer losing her Son that God had entrusted to her care. She knew none of it but she pondered these things in her heart and that is where she met God and found peace.

Father reminded us and expanded elaborately that suffering is not a punishment from God. God does not punish. God loves.

Are we tempted to think that suffering is a curse?

God does not curse His children. He loves them.

Father also reminded us that the Old Testament needs to be read through the lens of Jesus' birth, death and resurrection and what these events mean for us as His followers.

This banquet of teachings will take days to unpack as hopefully we will continue to ponder them in our hearts.

Some new and vibrant young musicians and singers, under the leadership of Willy, made our time of Praise & Worship, the beautiful healing Mass and time of adoration complete.

Many of the 40 people who attended seemed keener to receive from the banquet of the spiritual food rather than break for bodily nourishment. However our duty of care demanded that we had to break for a tea break and a short lunch break.

Quoting the motto of my Passionist Parish - "May the Passion of Christ be always in your heart." Have a Blessed Easter.

Calvary

Ecumenical Evangelisation By Carmen Sylvester

“That all of them may be one, Father, just as you are in me and I am in you. May they also be in us so that the world may believe that you have sent me.” Jn. 17:21

In 1959 Billy Graham launched a tour of evangelistic events across Australia that had a significant spiritual impact on tens of thousands of people.

His son Franklin Graham honored the 60th anniversary of his father’s historic tour by holding his own evangelistic events with the Graham Tour across six Australian cities in February 2019.

On the 20th February 2019 hundreds of people poured into the Titanium Security Arena in Adelaide to hear the message of hope that has brought conversion to so many people. This event had been in preparation for months but we only got to hear about it last December. In a frantic attempt to have a Catholic presence at the event, the Catholic School of Evangelisation took the lead in linking the Archdiocese of Adelaide, Catholic Charismatic Renewal and Couples for Christ to prepare to welcome enquirers into the Catholic Church.

A beautiful man of God, Morgan Plyant who was the road manager for the Crusade in Adelaide gave us so much of his time to prepare us to evangelise anyone coming forward to give their lives to the Lord on the night of the event. The names of those who identified themselves with the Catholic Church were given to us and so invitations went out for them to attend a New Life in God’s Spirit weekend.

With less than two weeks to prepare, God just came on board and provided two priests, two leaders from Couples for Christ, two team members from the School and a long time presenter of Life in the Spirit Seminar to be our guests speakers. We were also blessed with some powerful witnessing from people who shared about life changing experiences in their lives.

We decided to advertise it also in Parishes and with just one registration it was with joy that we received 24 participants on the day. It was a joy filled weekend and a wonderful example of how God pours out the Blessings when groups and communities come together to support each other in the work of Evangelisation.

We were led very enthusiastically in Praise and Worship on Saturday by Ben Santos from Couples for Christ. His energy and love of praising God was contagious. Fr Josy the School’s Spiritual Director celebrated a beautiful Mass for us where he spoke about God’s Love in the homily. Sunday Praise and Worship was led by Michael Carter a long-time Charismatic, Praise and Worship leader and song writer.

Attending the Parish Mass was also eventful when a long time supporter of the School, Fr James Valladares welcomed us with gusto and thanked us for coming to share the Eucharist with the Parish.

We thank God for the opportunity to work side by side with our Christian brothers and sisters and to experience their deep love for God and God’s people.

May we all be one : One day soon please God.

On behalf of the CSOE I would like to thank Carmen and her team for the initiative they showed to give the Catholic Church a presence at this event and welcome interested people into our Church. Then the trust to follow up with a New Life course when there was only one registration. What an example they give all of us.

The Melbourne CSOE Doing A Great Job

By Jelena

Below is my feedback on the two courses presented by the Melbourne team over two weekends in March:

* John the Beloved Disciple— Formation of disciples in Newport on Saturday 9th, Sunday 10th and Monday 11th March.

* The Fringe of His Garment in Watsonia on Saturday 16th and Sunday 17th March.

Before registering for either of these courses I didn't know what to expect. I felt drawn to the first after reading about it in the St Leo's newsletter. Emilia from the team invited me to attend the course the following weekend. I am so glad that I responded with "yes" to both.

To say that both these courses changed my life for the better is an understatement. I had been praying for healing, strength and change in my life which had become static like the Dead Sea. I wanted to sail again on the Sea of Galilee, figuratively speaking, although I can't wait to do it again in reality.

I had lost my spark ie my mojo and knew that the only way to regain it was to saturate myself with Jesus and kindred spirits. I wasn't disappointed. Your team both individually and collectively delivered more than I could have imagined. I am now hooked - line and sinker.

Bishop Joe has been an inspiration to me since he first made his appearance at St Leo's in Altona North in the 1970's as the parish priest. The man was literally on fire, he couldn't keep still. His joyfulness and zest for life was contagious. Needless to say I joined the parish youth group because I wanted to bask in the enthusiasm he exuded.

As an adult, I attended the first Australian Catholic Youth Ministry Convention in Melbourne in 2010 of which the Most Rev. Joseph Grech was the Delegate for Youth, Australian Catholic Bishops Conference. The theme for the convention was "Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?" (Mk 10:17). Once again, Bishop Joe was the draw card. He had the Midas touch- whatever he touched turned to gold. "Praise God" was his constant utterance.

I am at a time in my life whereby in the words of Bishop Joe I am FAT - Faithful, Available and Teachable. I am ready to make a commitment to become a 'Disciple maker'. If the two courses that I have attended to date facilitated by the Catholic School of Evangelisation are indicative of what else is on offer, then I am confident that I will be equipped to fulfil that role.

Both courses were professionally and prayerfully conducted. The course content was informative, practical and user friendly. Co leading the sessions made them interesting as each speaker was able to share their own experiences and colour it with their unique personality. The handouts were clear and concise and will serve as an invaluable resource for future reference. The music selected was uplifting and the lyrics profound. Fellowship during breaks with both participants and facilitators was another bonus enabling peer exchange. Incorporating daily Mass into the sessions was the icing on the cake. Both courses provided value for money. Tears and laughter all made their appearance. I felt safe letting the tears flow.

I would like to extend my deep appreciation to the entire CSOE crew for their inspirational and informative presentations. I am aware of the behind the scenes dedication that is needed to deliver events of this calibre. I wish you all every success in the future as you continue to carry out God's mission. You are all effective witnesses of the teachings of Jesus Christ. May God continue to bless you all in your work.

THE EMMAUS SYNAGOGUE (The Bishop's Lounge Room)

When Fr Adam first made contact with me it was to ask for help to present Emmaus in Goroka, PNG. We were not able to go there and so he came to us. In eleven days here he participated in four CSOE courses!

In order for Fr Adam to experience an Emmaus course during his visit, as many as possible came on an Emmaus journey with him - squeezed into my lounge room.

When it came time to portray O.T. characters, teachers of Israel and prophets it was a case of each person having multiple personalities.

The quick changes for each personality was undertaken with a great spirit. It was obvious that more than one frustrated thespian really entered into their allocated roles giving them 110%.

Fr Adam concluded by saying that he could see the Emmaus course working very well in PNG.

Sandra E Bishop

Ezekiel (Sr Nelia)
"I shall give you a heart of flesh."

Moses (Rose)
"The New Moses will have the Words of eternal life."

Jesus (Emilia) entered the synagogue & read from the scroll.

Is it Melchizedek? Is it Solomon? No, it is Fr Adam from PNG and the synagogue leader (Ann).

Isaiah 1, Isaiah 2, or Isaiah 3 (Trish)

Is it Maimonides, or Nicodemus, or Gamaliel, or Hillel? Believe it or not it is 'Rabbi' Daniel.

The Parable of the Sower - Mathew 13: 1-10

By Carmen Sylvester

The first Faith on Fire Seminar for 2019 was on 16th February. This year we decided to cover Jesus' Parables and so our Guest Speaker chose the powerful Parable of the Sower from Mathew's Gospel. Of course we have heard it many times but it was timely before Lent to be reminded of what it all means.

Our young and vibrant Tanzanian priest challenged us continuously to reflect:

Where are we at in our Spiritual journey?

What is the condition of my heart?

Where is the Word of God falling?

Is it the hard ground of our hearts where we get so hardhearted with our brothers and sisters that no amount of preaching of the Word of God is being allowed to penetrate our souls, like the seed (Word of God) that falls on the path which is exposed to the elements with no chance of producing what it was sent to do? The birds (devil) however, feast on our sinfulness that allows the seed to be ignored, neglected and downright rejected.

Where is the Word of God falling?

Our hearts are like the stony ground where we readily profess delight with the Word. However, the heart is not changed, and when trouble arises, our so-called faith quickly disappears.

Are we like the thorny ground where we seem to receive the Word, but our hearts are too concerned with riches, pleasures, and lusts; the things of this world take our time and attention away from the Word, and we end up having no time for it?

Of course we would love to profess that the Word of God is falling on good ground. Soil rich and fertile where we receive the Word—and allow the Word to accomplish good results in our life.

The challenge for us was to reflect upon our attitude to the Word of God. How do we live it? Do we pick and choose what we believe and under what circumstances are we prepared to obey the Word of God?

As Father said, the reality is that we can be in all four types of ground and our challenge is to allow God to gently move us from the path, the rocky ground and the thorny ground until we can be planted in the good soil and welcome the Word of God, even when it challenges our attitudes, our ideas, our prejudices. Father reminded us that bearing 30, 60, or a 100 fold of good fruits in our life is all God's work. All we need to do is not resist it.

Even with the seriousness of the message the day was very joyous. Aldo Viviani the Leader of Couples for Christ started us off with some lively Praise and Worship and our shared lunch was sumptuous to say the least.

Always a blessing and a privilege to celebrate the Eucharist with Fr Patrice and the anointing was especially touching. Fr Patrice would not let us go before we took a group photo and although some people had to hurry home after the Mass, it was a beautiful finale to our day to see the joy on people's faces as they posed for the photo.

We pray that our faith and our lives exemplify the "good soil" in the Parable of the Sower.

Bat Kol Here We Come! By Sandra E Bishop

Little did I think when I returned to study in 2018 it would take me to Jerusalem in 2019.

I began last year at Catholic Theological College (CTC) doing 2 units: 'Hebrew' and the 'Book of Isaiah'. Unfortunately the Isaiah lecturer had an accident and the course was cancelled. In a way I was grateful, as I soon discovered that learning Hebrew was going to be the hardest thing I have done in a long while and it required my full attention to be prepared for the weekly written test and the exam at the end of the semester.

It was at a mid year intensive unit 'Theology and Religious Art in Education' where I met a past participant from the Bat Kol Institute. We got talking in a break and she asked if I had applied for the part scholarship to study the 'Book of Numbers' at the Institute in 2019. Study in Jerusalem? Listening to Rabbis and biblical experts? Go on excursions with archaeologists? What a dream, I thought!

I had received an email from CTC giving details of the offer but I had not given it a second thought, until I met Mary Ann. She asked for my email address and sent further information to me. Then came my unexpected Spinal Fusion operation, which had to be repeated a few days later. Whilst I was on my back, drugged up to my eyeballs in a Rehab Hospital, I received another email from Mary Ann asking if I had applied for the Scholarship. I almost fell out of bed laughing! She kept on at me though – thankfully.

As soon as I returned home I lodged an application, just to get her off my back. My surprise Christmas present was an email from CTC saying that I had been successful!

A generous sponsor has provided two CTC students with US$2,500 each towards the US$3,950 fee which covers full board, selected books, travel and admission to various sites. When a few people heard my news and enquired about the funds I needed to cover the balance of the fees and airfares, they spoke to Ann Serong and suggested that some people might be interested in offering support.

I have been very humbled at the response: offers of prayer cover, financial help in the form of Aus$'s, US$'s and even some Israeli Shekels! I have not been able to personally thank some anonymous donations and so I take this opportunity to do so. I am very grateful. Thank you very much.

My travelling companion from CTC is a candidate for the Permanent Diaconate, Steve. We leave on 30th June, travelling via Hong Kong to Tel Aviv, returning home 25th July. But before we leave we each have assignments to submit at CTC as well as some pre-course 'Numbers' reading to cover. Poor Steve has to learn Hebrew from scratch and I have to learn the written form of Hebrew. I only thought there was a printed form, silly me! When we return we are to use the material from the Bat Kol Jerusalem experience in a Supervised Reading Unit (SRU) at CTC. I will be aiming for that major assignment to form the basis of a new CSOE course in the near future.

My mobility is improving far too slowly for my liking, but thankfully I hope to be able to fully participate in the Israel excursions aided by my trusty floral walking stick. Please keep us in your prayers.

MOSES IS COMING BACK!

After an absence of 18 years, Moses will be returning to Melbourne.

2nd—5th November at St Clare’s Hall, Box Hill North.

A study of the life of Moses, especially as it models the attitudes required for Christian leaders.

The course will take participants through the Schools of Pharaoh, of Midian and of the Desert, to learn specific spiritual and leadership lessons.

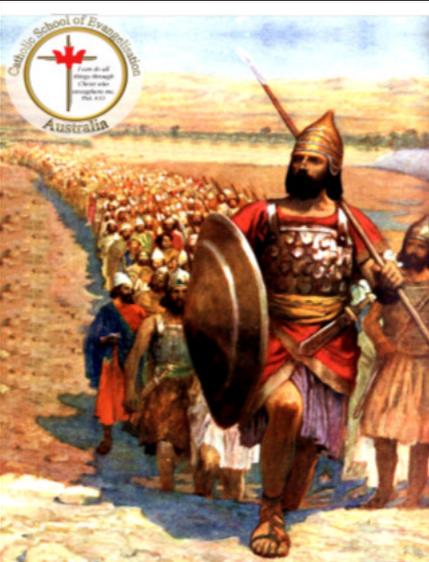

It unveils the deep depression of Moses, his requests of God, and his trials.

It discusses the qualities of his collaborators and the power of a leader’s intercessory prayer.

This course is especially beneficial to those in leadership positions as they learn, from the experience of Moses, that no leader ‘owns’ their position, it always belongs to God as does the work to which they are called.

It is necessary to attend all 4 days, and all sessions. Each session builds upon the teachings of previous sessions. This is a 4 day course.

THE WITNESS

Prayer Before a Crucifix

Good and gentle Jesus,
I kneel before You,
I see and ponder Your five wounds.
My eyes behold what David prophesied about You:
"They have pierced my hands and feet;
They have numbered all my bones."

Imprint on me this image of Yourself.
Fulfil the deep desires of my heart.
Give me faith, hope and love,
Repentance for my sins,
And the strength to serve
Your people
With respect and love.
Amen.
